Momentous Days

MOMENTOUS days are on us! Our eyes may soon behold
A mighty clash of nations which prophets have foretold;
A clashing and a cleaving of unmatched magnitude,
Wrought by some super-being with evil power endued.

Momentous! Yes, momentous! But shall we be afraid?
The mighty conflict cometh, yet may our hearts be stayed!
The Lord from Glory cometh, His coming draweth nigh;
Earth's most colossal conflict we'll see yet from on high.

The nations all are arming! The worst is yet to be!
For Armageddon cometh, not far from Galilee;
But brothers, Christian brothers, fear not of being there;
Before that awful carnage, Christ cometh to the air.

The days of tribulation are truly near at hand;
"Perplexity of nations" e'en now invades each land;
Yet not for woes and terrors, and earth's onrushing night
Look we for, but the Morning of cloudless glory bright.
