

When I Have Gone Before

What should you tell the folk I've left
When I have gone before,
When in my Saviour's presence-blessed
I've reached the other shore?

Why – tell them of God's wondrous grace
And how He saved my soul,
Tell them of my lost estate –
How Jesus made me whole.

Tell them of the shame and loss
The blood shed and the tears
That Christ endured upon the cross
To banish all my fears.

Tell them of His power to save
To wash away all sin,
Tell them how He loves and keeps
And puts new life within.

Warn them of the consequence
Of rejecting Jesus' love,
Point them to the Christ of God
And endless life above.

Tell them how He answers prayer
And fits us day by day,
To take the sunshine or the shadow
As we walk along life's way.

Tell them of the peace He gives
And of the promise rare,
That someday He is coming back
To meet us in the air.

Tell them that I'm with this man
I'm safe in Jesus' care,
And tell them, tell them this,
I want to see them there.

*And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.
